

Troop 3541 Completes Silver Award Project

Taylor Wolfe and Caroline Bearden from Girl Scout Troop 3541 of the Crescenta Valley & Glendale Service Unit completed their Silver Award Project on Friday, November 19, with the delivery of over 200 cans and 16 grocery bags of cat and dog food to the Pasadena Humane Society. The goal for the project was to collect donations to fill the community chest at the Humane Society which offers cans and small bags of food for free to pet owners that are struggling to feed their pets at home. The girls did such a good job that not only did they fill up the chest but there was a lot of food left for animals already at the shelter.

A desire to help animals and make a difference motivated the troop to do a Pet Food Drive in the community. The project started in September with the girls presenting their plan to Girl Scout leaders and then spending some long and cold mornings collecting donations at the Montrose Harvest Market in front of Anderson's Pet Store. Taylor and Caroline also canvassed their own neighborhoods and collected many donations through their efforts. A special trip to the Dollar Tree to purchase food with the cash donations was very successful in getting the most for their money. A lot of hard work and perseverance resulted in a meaningful and successful project.

Congratulations Taylor and Caroline!
